DEPENDING ON SUPPORT RECEIVED.

THE Sea Coast Echo depends upon the business it receives to enlarge its service to the people of this area. When you subscribe to the newspaper, insert an advertisement or patronize another advertiser, you help to make the publication of an improved newspaper.

From numerous unsolicited expressions by letter and by word the unanimous expression is to the effect that as a weekly local newspaper The Echo is far above the average.

For high fifty years we have striven to keep it so. Always newsy, reliable, free from damaging public and private lives.

A newspaper that well may enter the family home, within the sacred circles of our growing boys and girls, for it is always clean and truthful.

It is not a fly by night sheet. It is established and solidly backed by the best and leading forces of thought and action of the community.

It has thorough endorsement of official and private sources of representation.

Hence, according to the patronage of the community will this newspaper continue to keep pace with the best there is. And we are thankful for this support.

MRS. MARY CUEVAS PIERI.

DEATH of Mrs. Mary Cuevas Pieri, aged 89 years, and widow of the late Mayor A. G. Pieri, of Bay St. Louis, removes from the community one who had lived here all her life and contributed vastly to its welfare.

She was the mother of a large family, rearing them to the estate of man and womanhood and to become useful citizens.

Mrs. Pieri was a member of one of the oldest families to have pioneered the Mississippi Gulf Coast. The Cuevas family have many branches and the name is honored in all sections of the two counties of Harrison and Hancock.

Living to the ripe age of ninety, rearing a family of large proportion and who have all filled useful and honorable niches in the scheme of life.

She was the great aunt of Hale Boggs, United States Congressman from Louisiana, a native of Long Beach, in the adjoining county.

There is vast satisfaction in noting that a long and useful life was accomplished. By birth and education she was lady of rank and her many virtues enriched not only her own life but that with whom she contacted and daily associated.

THE ARMY WELCOMES RELIGION.

IT IS interesting to report that the Army is spending $12,000,000 to build five hundred chapels in forts, camps and cantonments in the United States.

The staff of chaplains connected with the Army has been expanded to take care of the spiritual needs of more than one million soldiers now in service.

More than eight hundred chaplains were added to the Army last year, making nearly one thousand available to conduct religious services and minister to the spiritual needs of the American Army.

Twelve million dollars may not seem to be a large sum to spend for spiritual purposes in connection with the billions which are being expended for the purposes of war, but it is refreshing to know that the officials of the Government and Army recognize the importance of religious services.

Soldiers and sailors, like editors, bankers and business men, require the solace which comes from religious services designed to minister unto spiritual aspirations.

HONOR TO DR. HAND.

DR. W. F. Hand, of State College, was recently honored as the winner of the Charles Herty award for 1940.

The award was given for outstanding work in connection with agricultural development and chemical education in Mississippi and the South.

Dr. Hand, a native of Shubuta, Miss., has been state chemist since 1899.

He is recognized throughout the nation as one of the great chemists of the age.

He has brought distinction to himself and his native state.

The people of Mississippi are gratified over this new honor that has come to Dr. Hand.

U.S. OFFICERS FLY OVER GERMANY.

THE United States Army has authorized its observers in Great Britain to accompany British planes on their forays over the Continent.

The idea is that American observers will gain first hand experience under actual war conditions. Already American observers have been flying with British pilots over England for the same practical purpose.

EVEN AT THE RISK OF WAR.

THE people of the United States have gradually become convinced that it is important to aid Great Britain, even at the risk of war.

In May, 1940, according to the American Institute of Public Opinion, only 36 per cent of those interviewed favored aid to Britain at the risk of war. At this time the figure shows 67 per cent of those interviewed favor such a policy.

MORE SPEED NEEDED.

A BILL is proposed in Congress to join the Lawrence seaway, the Florida ship canal and several other like projects into one vast program.

It would mean a stupendous outlay of money. It seems to us that it would be an unwise course to pursue at this time because of (a) the element of time and (b) the vast outlay of money.

It would seem to be better strategy to throw this great sum into speeding up production now.

The more quickly this war can be brought to an end the less expensive it will be from many standpoints.

There is no use of trying to project plans far off into the distance like 1945, 1946, etc.

If we don't make any greater speed on doing the job than we are at present, such canals and seaways wouldn't be completed before the year 2,000.

There is too much selfish, personal politics in Washington at the present time for the good of the country.

They are spending too much money and getting too little results.

Congress can't do any good beginning work at 11:00 o'clock in the morning, adjourning at 4:00 in the afternoon, and then taking a week-end holiday from Friday noon until the next Tuesday morning.

If businesses were conducted that way, they would be on the rocks inside of six months.

And Congress should get the idea in its thick head that the present program has got to be run on a business, and not a political basis, or else it won't click.

The running of this nation is a big business. Congress should look at it that way and stop piddling around with it.

SENATOR PAT HARRISON NOT GRAVELY ILL.

IT WAS refreshing, following a rumor to contrary effect, that Senator Pat Harrison was not gravely ill, but, on the contrary, was up and about at Hot Springs where he has been receiving treatment at the United States Army and Navy Hospital.

Senator Harrison has worked to a point of exhaustion and it was well that some weeks since he journeyed from Washington to Hot Springs and immediately underwent the thermal bath and other treatment.

He responded quickly to this rejuvenation and health restoration has progressed rapidly.

However, a rumor was put on the wires during the early part of the week that he received a serious set back and that his condition had become critical.

This was false and how it originated is not definitely explained.

Great men are subject to all kinds of rumors and misrepresentation. Why this is so remains to be adequately explained.

The Echo, and the hundreds of thousands of friends of our own "Pat" will indeed be cheered to learn the report is not true.

We will be further pleased to learn he is, in fact, rapidly recuperating.

May it please God that we continue enjoying the privilege of such services as Senator Pat Harrison and the men who rank high with him.

We need men of this type more than ever in these perilous times.

MR. ALLISON'S 90TH BIRTHDAY.

MR. Alexander Allison, resident of Bay St. Louis, will on Monday next celebrate his ninetieth birthday.

Accordingly, "open house" will be the order of the evening. Elsewhere in this issue of The Echo appears an announcement inviting his friends.

It will be well to pay this grand character tribute by many visiting at his North Beach home that evening and congratulate him.

Hale and hearty at ninety, Mr. Allison commutes to his office in New Orleans daily where he transacts business as usual.

A churchman, he is a sterling character, a man known all his life for his unpeachable character, for his usefulness to his fellowman. And what greater a tribute could be paid to a fellow citizen?

Unselfishness is the foundation of the golden rule. How well he has practiced the golden precept is best evidenced by his daily exemplary life.

Men of this type who have accomplished a full life are examples to follow. Such life gives inspiration. Renewed our faith in mankind and sublimely proves that faith in God and church and in our fellowmen are as enduring as the holy writ.

ANOTHER HOLIDAY.

CONGRESS reconvened on Monday of this week after having had a long Easter holiday.

We're just wondering if Hitler took an Easter holiday.

If he did, nobody heard of it.

At a time when America is on the brink of war, Congress takes an Easter holiday.

The boys go back home, riding at the expense of the taxpayers, to put on their silk toupes and join the Easter parade.

On the other side of the water, Hitler no doubt put on a steel hat and went to battle. Peace on Easter is far to be desired above war, it goes without saying.

But when a world is at war, it is no time for Congress to take a long vacation.

It is no time for fishing trips, cruises, vacations and things of that nature.

THE COST OF WAR.

GIVE me the money that has been spent on war and I will clothe every man, woman and child in the world in attire of which Kings and Queens would be proud.

I will build a schoolhouse in every valley over the whole earth.

It will crown every hilltop with a place of worship consecrated to the Gospel of Peace.

Charles Sumner.

BAY RED CROSS IS ACTIVE

Hancock Chapter Busy Calling For Volunteers to Sew and Crochet—Work Imperative.

With the war news becoming more interesting and appalling each day, the work of the American Red Cross becomes greater and more important each hour and interest in this great work naturally increases.

The Hancock Chapter has been urgently asking for persons able to sew, knit or crochet to offer their services and again appeals for workers.

A Junior Red Cross Chapter recently formed has begun a class at Bay High School where knitting will be taught and with Mrs. J. Roland Weston in charge and Mrs. Paula Jerns and Misses Juanita Johnson and Alice Colmer assisting.

Plans are being formulated now for the teaching of first aid to the boys and these classes will begin shortly.

The following names are added to the list of persons who have sewed or completed garments: Mrs. G. Y. Blaise, Mrs. E. J. Arceneaux, Mrs. G. F. Stevenson, Mrs. Bernard Blaise.

A number of well-made and attractive garments completed by the local chapter were displayed on last Saturday and Sunday at The Seagull during the Bay-Waveland Garden Club's Flower Show.

From the National Convention of the American Red Cross held in Washington, D. C., April 21st to 24th comes the following message from America's No. 1 soldier, General C. Marshall, Chief of Staff, United States Army:

"As Chief of Staff of the Army of the United States, I would say this morning to every family thru-out our great democracy that in this program of training for defense in which we are all engaged, the home front is of equal importance with the military front.

"To put it another way, the morale of the family at home has a great deal to do with the morale of the soldier camp. Deep down inside him every enlisted man feels this. From the general on down, every officer in command of troops knows it, every chaplain, every morale officer is keenly aware of it.

"Congress recognized this truth when it established the American Red Cross as a medium of communication between the American people and the soldiers and sailors of the Army and Navy. The War Department attested the value of the Red Cross as a link between the soldier and his home when it specified in Army Regulations the services that organization undertakes to render.

"I would say to each of the millions of members of the Red Cross: Congress has placed upon you a great responsibility. You are to render direct help in maintaining the morale of our Army. To every Red Cross Field Director assigned to a military post or hospital, I would say: You are the medium through which officers in command of troops and the soldiers themselves receive the assistance that Red Cross Chapters back home are obligated to render when soldiers and their families are confronted by emergencies. Yours is a great responsibility.

"And, finally, to the thousands of workers in Red Cross Chapters thru-out the country, in Alaska, in Hawaii, and the Philippines, in the Canal Zone and our other insular possessions: Yours is the heaviest responsibility of all, and yours also the opportunity for deepest satisfaction. When you receive a message asking you to report about illness in a soldier's family, that worried soldier is anxiously awaiting your reply. His commanding officer is waiting too, and relying upon you. When you make fatiguing visits to obtain data for a medical officer, you are helping him in his efforts to restore to health and active duty a young man who wants very much to get well. When you locate for a soldier his family with whom he has lost contact, when you help solve problems of dependency, when alone or in cooperation with other agencies you help a soldier's family over a financial emergency, or help to straighten out any other of the great variety of tangles that human beings seem unable to avoid, you are helping to maintain morale on the home front, and with the army in the field, you are helping us in training for defense."

"In addition to the compulsory 'cooling-off' period the bill contains two provisions to which several of the members of the committee objected. One of these would freeze existing open and closed shop contracts in defense plants. The other would require immediate dismissal from a defense industry of any employee whose employer has reasonable cause to believe is or ever was a Communist or Nazi. Apparently most of the controversy, when the bill comes up for consideration in the House will revolve around these two provisions.

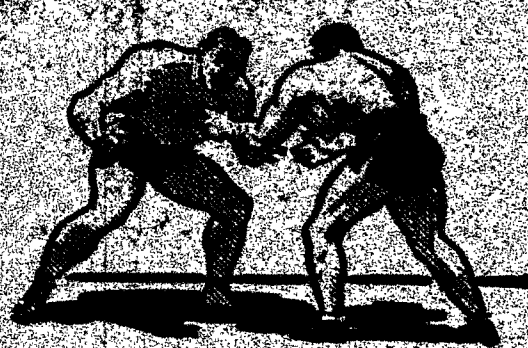

The Ways and Means Committee of the House is soon to begin consideration of a tax program to raise an additional three and a half billion dollars during the next fiscal year.

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau has estimated that federal expenditures for fiscal year 1942 would amount to nineteen billion dollars, and he proposed that two-thirds of this amount would be raised by taxation and one-third by borrowing. This would mean raising over twelve and a half billion dollars through taxes, whereas the estimated revenue from present taxes for the 1942 fiscal year will be a little over nine billion, leaving approximately three and a half billion to be raised by new taxes.

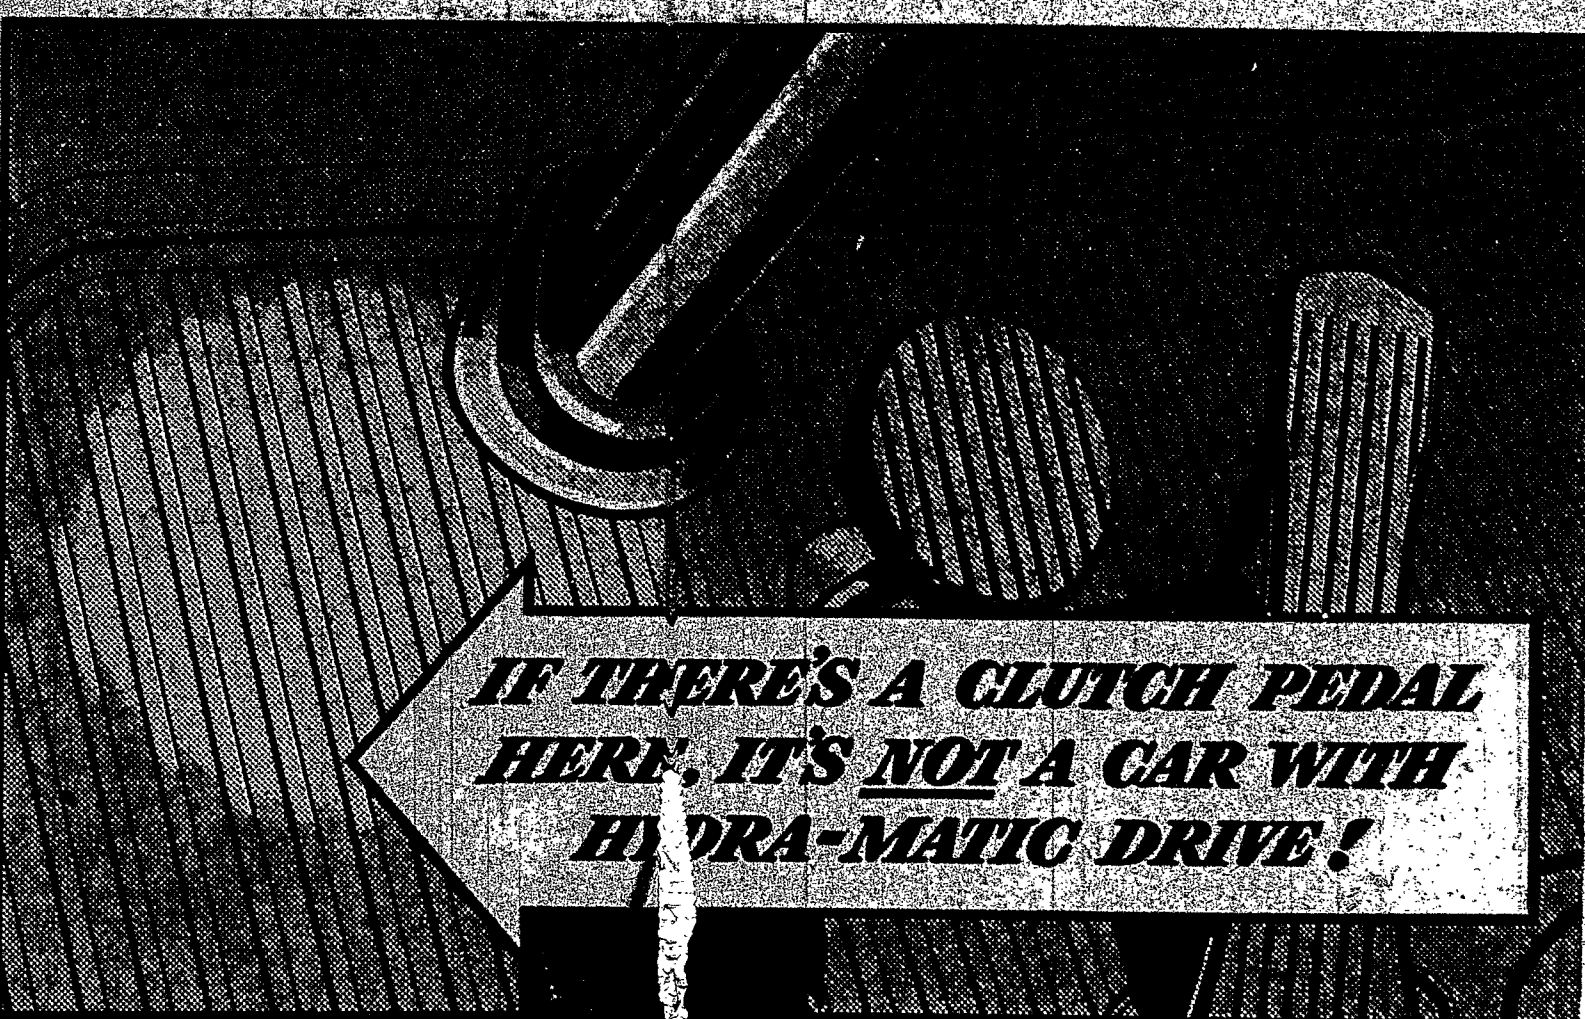

A Million And A Half Under Arms. The Army and Navy have announced a total of 1,479,359 men on active duty.

DEFENSE STRIKES

WHILE the situation with reference to strikes on vital defense projects has cleared up considerably during the past week or so, the House Naval Affairs Committee has gone ahead with consideration of a bill introduced by its Chairman, Congressman Vinson, providing for a "cooling-off" period before a strike may be called, and the Committee has unanimously reported the bill favorably, though four members stated that they voted for the report with reservations.

The bill provides for a three-step system of mediation to settle disputes: first, by conferences between the employees and the employer; then, at the request of either side, by referring to the Department of Labor Conciliation Service; and, finally, after it has been with the Conciliation Service five days, by allowing either party to bring it before the National Mediation Board, which was set up several weeks ago by the President. If the strike has not been settled within 20 additional days, the National Mediation Board must publish its findings. While the dispute is being considered by the Conciliation Service or the Mediation Board, strikes or lock-outs would be prohibited. The penalty for violating the provisions of the bill would be a fine of $50,000 and a year's imprisonment.

In addition to the compulsory "cooling-off" period the bill contains two provisions to which several of the members of the committee objected. One of these would freeze existing open and closed shop contracts in defense plants. The other would require immediate dismissal from a defense industry of any employee whose employer has reasonable cause to believe is or ever was a Communist or Nazi. Apparently most of the controversy, when the bill comes up for consideration in the House will revolve around these two provisions.

Taxes

The Ways and Means Committee of the House is soon to begin consideration of a tax program to raise an additional three and a half billion dollars during the next fiscal year.

This would mean raising over twelve and a half billion dollars through taxes, whereas the estimated revenue from present taxes for the 1942 fiscal year will be a little over nine billion, leaving approximately three and a half billion to be raised by new taxes.

ANDY GRADUATES IN NEW "HARDY FAMILY" COMEDY

"Andy Hardy's Private Secretary," Coming to A. & G. Theater Sunday and Monday.

Designed to strike a responsive cord in the hearts of all the family, "Andy Hardy's Private Secretary," opening at the A. & G. Theater Sunday for an engagement of two days, is heralded as destined to prove one of the most popular of the series.

The latest Hardy Family picture proves a milestone in the life of Andrew Hardy. It's plot, in brief, finds the young man deep in the duties as chairman of numerous senior committees, and being a Good Samaritan on the side to a couple of youngsters less fortunate than he. How he inadvertently causes a near tragedy in their family, and how, in spite of failing an English exam, he manages to be among those present when diplomas are handed out, makes for one of the most human screen documents of the year.

The popular cast has again been assembled, with Lewis Stone as Judge and Mickey Rooney as Andy, Fay Holden as seen as Ma Hardy, Sara Hadden as Aunt Milly and Ann Rutherford as Polly Benedict. Two additional screen favorites, Ian Hunter and Gene Reynolds, make their appearance with the family in the new production.

The picture also marks the screen debut of a pair of promising newlings, Kathryn Grayson, seventeen-year-old coloratura soprano, and Todd Karns, son of the popular screen comedian, Roscoe Karns.

The newest of the Hardy Family series was directed by George B. Seitz, who has piloted the family through most of their screen adventures.

Women's headaches, nervousness, cramp-like pain may be symptoms of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition, so often relieved by CARDOL. Principal way it helps is by increasing appetite, stimulating flow of gastric juices, and so increasing digestion and blood to build physical resistance. Another way is by relaxing muscular spasm, thus relieving the cramp-like pain.

CAPITOL ACTIVITIES
The class of Art of the Central High School, Jackson, is finding the beautiful shrubbery, the magnolia tree, the german cannon, the confederate monument, as well as the New Capitol Building, splendid models for drawing, and most any day one, or several members, of the Art Class may be seen sitting on the Capitol grounds with drawing board, busily engaged in drawing.

National Wildlife Restoration Week, proclaimed by Governor Johnson for the period of April 14-19, was appropriately observed in Mississippi. The governor stated in his proclamation that "it is imperative that we conserve to our ability our wildlife resources if future generations are to participate in out door activities of this nature."

Two conservation schools for boys, the first to be held in the state, will be conducted this summer under sponsorship of the Mississippi Forestry and Chemurgic Association in cooperation with various state and federal agencies. Purpose of the schools is to teach the youth to "conserve, use and enjoy" the natural resources of their state. The first school is scheduled to be held at the Natchez Trace State Park near Okolona, June 9-13, with the second at the Percy Quin State Park near McComb, August 4-8.

Jackson will be the first city in Mississippi to experiment with parking meters in an effort to solve the parking problem. The meters are now being installed in the most congested business districts of the city.

W. H. Breedlove of Tupelo, was recently appointed by Governor Johnson as a member of the state barber board, succeeding H. D. Hudspeth, of Benton county, who resigned. Other members of the board are Harmon McGee, of Jackson, Secretary and W. L. Hines of Hattiesburg.

Mississippi troops stationed at Camp Blanding, Florida, had their feelings very much hurt at a recent Flag Day celebration, attended in regalia by all the regiments of the four Southern states in training at that place. The governor of Florida made the welcome address, welcoming citizens, military dignitaries, and troops gathered from Alabama, Louisiana and my own native Florida. No mention made of Mississippi. Feelings were hurt, then, and later taunts from Alabama, Louisiana and Florida soldiers fanned the flame. Later, however, a letter of apology from Governor Holland to Col. George Hogaboom, of Vicksburg, Commander of the 15th Infantry put everyone in a good humor again. "Failure to mention the great old State of Mississippi," the governor said, "was one of those inexcusable omissions which happen to all of us, and which was due probably in this instance to the fact that the whole occasion was so profoundly impressive, at least to me."

Among the many interesting facts about Jackson, the Capital city, is the following: In the naming of the streets and avenues the following states have been honored: Alabama, Delaware, Georgia, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, and Texas. Mississippi counties are represented by: Adams, Amite, Calhoun, Chickasaw, Choctaw, Claiborne, Clay, Franklin, George, Green, Hancock, Hinds, Holmes, Humphries, Jackson, Jefferson, Jefferson Davis, Jones, Lamar, Lee, Madison, Marion, Marshall, Monroe, Montgomery, Prentiss, Rankin, Stone, Union, Washington, Webster and Yazoo. When it comes to cities and towns quite a few in Mississippi have been honored: Aberdeen, Biloxi, Charleston, Cleveland, Clinton, Columbia, Columbus, Corinth, Courtland, Crawford, Decatur, Edwards, Enterprise, Florida, Florence, Georgetown, Grenada, Hattiesburg, Houston, Laurel, Lexington, Lucedale, Macon, Magnolia, Marks, Myrtle, Natchez, Newton, Oxford, Pascagoula, Pocomantas, Raymond, Terry, Tunica, Tupelo, Uka, West and Wiggins.

MISSISSIPPI MAYOR

Says:

"Beer is now available in this city and county in surroundings that are steadily becoming increasingly WHOLESOME . . ."

Hon. Frank K. Hughes, Mayor of Corinth, and one of northeast Mississippi's most progressive business men and civic leaders, in a recent comment concerning the work of the Brewers and Mississippi Beer Distributors Committee, said:

"It has been a revelation to me to see the results obtained by your committee through its Clean Up or Close Up Program.

"The attitude of the retailers of beer in this area who have, with two exceptions, cooperated fully in your program is proof that an industry can control itself effectively if it adopts an intelligent plan in the public interest and then enforces the plan without fear or favor.

"You have done this and your promptness in shutting off the supply of beer to the two exceptions, together with the beneficial results obtained in Corinth and Alcorn County by your entire plan, has sold me one hundred per cent on your work.

"Beer is now available in this city and county in surroundings that are steadily becoming increasingly wholesome and I commend you for your constructive contributions to law-enforcement and decency."

Through the cooperation of city officials, like Mayor Hughes, law-enforcement officers and the thinking public — Beer — a beverage of moderation — made from wholesome American farm products under rigid tests for purity and quality — is increasingly available to you in WHOLESOME surroundings.

You can help protect these important benefits by patronizing the wholesome, law-abiding retail beer outlets in your community.

MRS. PIERI, AGED 89, PASSES ON

Widow of Former Mayor of Bay St. Louis Dies at Orleans—Buried Here Wednesday.

Mrs. Mary Cueva Pieri, wife of the late A. G. Pieri, mayor of the City of Bay St. Louis from April 1899 to April 1899, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Michel, New Orleans, at a late hour Sunday night.

Mrs. Pieri had been visiting at the home of her daughters in New Orleans since before the Christmas holidays, and had been ill from time to time with a heart ailment.

It was only by the good care of her children and those who surrounded her with tender solicitude, and due to a rugged constitution and a life of proper living that she reached the grand age of 89 years old—on the eve of 90.

Remains were conveyed from New Orleans to Bay St. Louis Wednesday morning. On arriving here conveyed to the Church of Our Lady of the Gulf, where she had worshipped for so many years, and the funeral ceremony consisted mainly of a requiem mass.

From the church the funeral cortege continued its way to Cedar Rest cemetery, where the remains were given to eternal safe keeping in the bosom of Mother Earth. This funeral was largely attended, friends of the present and those of other days, whose ranks have thinned, were present to pay tribute to the memory of this noble woman. Burial was in the family plot, besides those of her late husband and children.

She was the mother of sixteen children. Ten lived to manhood and womanhood. She is survived by four daughters: Mrs. Stella Baxter, Mrs. Joseph Michel, of New Orleans; Mrs. George Seuzeneau of Bay St. Louis; Mrs. A. D. Stein, of Chicago, and a son, Chester, of New Orleans. She was also the mother of the late Warren Pieri, of Houston, Texas, and of Clifford Pieri, of the Mississippi delta country, both grown to full maturity and well known locally. A younger son also died a few years back.

Two sisters also survive, Mrs. Thos. P. Hale, Sr., resident of Cedar Point, Bay St. Louis, and Mrs. Mortimer Robelot, of New Orleans. Also an aged brother, Albert Cuevas, of New Orleans, who just now is gravely ill.

There are eighteen grandchildren and eleven great-grandchildren. Mrs. Pieri was a native of this section. She was the first boarding pupil of St. Joseph Academy, when she was only 7 years old.

She was a devout member of the Catholic faith; a charter member of the St. Louis Woman's Benefit Association, member of the Altar Society, and also a member of St. Margaret's Daughters, and was always identified with organized bodies that stood for good. Her charities were far and wide and a better woman never lived.

Mrs. Pieri, until recently enjoyed excellent health and lived at the old homestead, corner Hancock street and Keller avenue. Here, where the home was rich in pleasant memories, Mrs. Pieri lived alone. Although each of the children desired her to live with them she rather lived alone in the home she loved so well and where she was surrounded not only by memories but by a garden of rare and beautiful flowers that she gave her personal pleasure. Such was the beautiful life of the deceased. She had lived long and reared a large and useful family. When her task was done in behalf of her own, she then devoted her time to self and to her church and charity work.

While she had long passed the bi-lateral allotment of life, her passing is nevertheless deeply regretted and her family have the sympathy of many friends over a wide area in Louisiana and Mississippi principally.

—Due to illness in the family of Mrs. J. Roland Weston's family, the weekly feature Echo article, "Along Garden Paths" is consequently omitted this week. Mrs. Weston's weekly article in The Echo is eagerly sought for, and its absence generally brings a flood of telephone and other inquiries. We hope The Echo and its readers will have better luck next week.

—The Echo and the many friends as well will regret to learn of the illness of the Rev. Andrew J. Boyles, former local minister, at his home in Magee, Miss. It is understood he is ailing with a serious infection. Last heard from his bedside was to the effect he was somewhat improved, according to a letter received locally from his daughter Virginia.

SURPRISE "SHOWER" FOR MISS MONTI.

Miss Genevieve Monti, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Monti, and a bride elect of this month, was tendered a surprise shower on last Wednesday evening by her cousin, Miss Evelyn Monti.

The shower was given at "The Answer" and decorations were carried out in a color scheme of pink and white with spring flowers in these colors used in profusion, and refreshments of cake and ice cream served in pink and white.

A clever arrangement of an umbrella with rain falling over it was effected by narrow strips of white crepe paper representing the shower of rain and under which the honoree sat, while her sister, Miss Alberta Monti, assisted the hostess in presenting the beautiful gifts.
